Welcome to the apple3-1 mailing list!

Please save this message for future reference. Thank you.

If you ever want to remove yourself from this mailing list, you can send mail to <Majordomo@altair.com> with the following command in the body of your email message:

unsubscribe apple3-1

or from another account, besides David@cyberwolfinc.com:

unsubscribe apple3-1 David@cyberwolfinc.com

If you ever need to get in contact with the owner of the list,

APPLE 3 MAILING LISTING INFORMATION -- 23 FEB 1999 -- 1 OF 2

(if you have trouble unsubscribing, or have questions about the list itself) send email to <owner-apple3-1@altair.com> . This is the general rule for most mailing lists when you need to contact a human.

Here's the general information for the list you've subscribed to, in case you don't already have it:

The Apple /// List (apple3-1@altair.com) exists to help support the users of the venerable Apple /// computer manufactured during the 1980's by Apple Computer, Inc.

Discussion of all subjects related to the Apple /// are welcome.

You will not be able to send messages to this list immediately. To reduce the amount of SPAM (unsolicited, unrelated e-mail), the list manager manually adds new subscribers after comparing subscriber addresses with a list of known SPAM sites. We apologize for this brief delay.

Please follow these simple list rules when posting:

No personal attacks on list members or outsiders. The Apple community is composed of professionals.

No posting of copyrighted materials without the permission of the copyright holder.

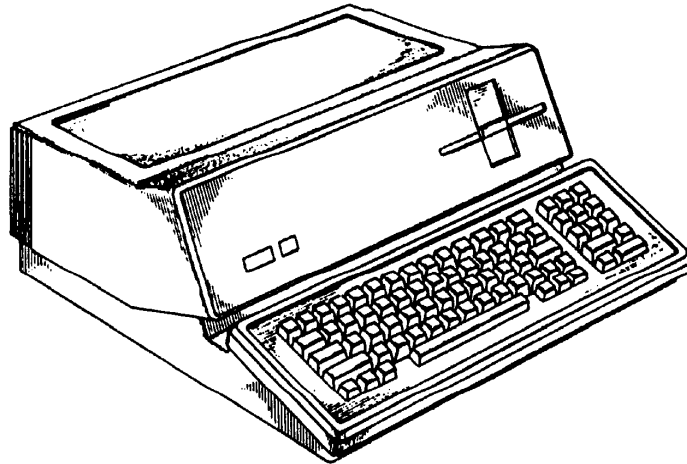

Posting "spam" (advertising of unrelated products) is strictly prohibited.

Altair Engineering/Altair Computing makes no warranties, expressed or implied, regarding the content and/or usability of this resource. Apple is a registered trademark of Apple Computer, Inc.

For a copy of the list archives, please contact the list maintainer, Jeff Marraccini (jeff@altair.com).
